Judge Paull Refuses the Mandatory Injunction Asked

AGAINST THE GAS COMPANY

1889, upon the terms in the said contract specified.

On or about the twenty-second day of September, 1888, the Wheeling Natural Gas company, which had previously thereto, with the assent of the complainant, assumed the obligations of Gilleapie and Film under the said contract, began supplying the complainant with gas thereunder, and continued to do so until about the sixth day of January, 1889, when it cut off the supply, and has since refused to furnish any gas whatever under the said contract.

The complainant now seeks to enforce as against the gas company a specific performance of this contract, on the ground that its remedy at law is inadequate.

It becomes necessary, therefore, to determine, in the first place, whether the complainant's remedy at law is inadequate.

dequate. Pomeroy, in his work on contracts, in Pomeroy, in his work on contracts, in discussing the subject of specific per-formance, on page 60, says: "It is the fundamental principle regulating the exercise of this equitable jurisdiction, that whenever the legal remedy is suf-ficient equity will not interfere and the specific performance will be refused, and this is always the case when the con-tract is satisfied by the payment of money."

tract is satisfied by the payment of money."

The complainant's injury, exclusive of the expense of making the connections and appliances necessary for the use of natural gas, and then preparing its works sgain for the use of coal, after the gas was shut off, consists solely in the increased cost of labor and fuel resulting from the use of coal instead of gas for its manufacturing purposes. And the evidence in the case conclusively shows that this increased cost can be accurately ascertained at the end of any period of six months, if not at shorter intervals of time, although it may not be capable of ageertainment in advance.

But it is plaimed that, as this increased cost cannot be ascertained in advance, requity should take jurisdiction in order to avoid a multiplicity of suits.

In Richmond vs. the Dubuque & Sioux City Railroad Company, 33 Iows, 1423, it was held that "while a court of equity will sometimes take jurisdiction of a ranke in order to avoid a multiplicity of suits.

423, it was held that "while a court of equity will sometimes take jurisdiction of a cause in order to avoid a multiplication of the country of a cause in order to avoid a multiplication of the controlling nature to require the jurisdiction to be assumed in disregard of other equitable principles." Beck, Oh. J., in delivering the opinion of the court in that gase, on page 148, says: "We do not understand the mere fact that there exist divers causes of action, which may be the foundation of as many different auita between the parties thereto, is ground on which equity may be ferent suits between the parties thereto, is ground on which equity may be called upon to assume jurisdiction and settle all such matters in one suit. The case would not be different if some of the causes of action were not mature. We have never heard it cloimed that equity will entertain an action upon a contract requiring the payment of money daily, monthly or yearly. Yet in such a case an action would accrue at each of such periods, and there would thus be, prospectively, a great multiplicity of actions."

Knight, a kind husqand and loyal citizen; therefore, be it Resolved, That we mourn his loss, and most heartly offer the bereaved and sorrowing widow our sincere condolence in her distress, whose grief He who hears the widow's cry and binds up the broken spirit alone can heal.
Resolved, That by his vacant chair we are reminded of the shortness of human life and the certainty of death, and admonished to be prepared at the call of the Supreme Chancellor of All to join the innumerable cavalcade of brave Knights in the land beyond. Supreme Constitution of the American Constitution of the land beyond,

It was too warn to stay in the house with comfort Saturday night, and the streets were even more than usually crowded with people. Last evening it was so pleasantly cool on the streets that they were again thronged. The Courier brought an excursion and a brass band down from Steubenville yesterday. The Druids of this city went down to Bellaire on the Bellaire. A large number of Pittaburgh people came down on the B. & O., the summer cheap excursions on that road commencing yesterday. Some hally perpetrated on the general public is the name of Whiskies than any other merchan lise in the market. The confidence bestower m me by the public I keenly appreciate, and, a ways hereifore, will in the future of the always heretofore, will in the future not betray that trust. It is not an easy matter to have eputable physicians and managers of hospitals ndorse any one particular brand of whisky, yet they have done so since the meris of KLEIN'S "SILVER AGE" became known to them. For the sick room it has no competitor. It stands alone for its delicate and delightful flavor. It is pure and old, free from all impurities. My stock of other well-known Fennsylvania Rye Whiskies of all ages is complete. My prices are asties of all ages is complete. My prices are asforeign and domestic kinds are well and carerolly selected. No house can show you better Brandies, Gins, or in fact any other imported iliquors than i.can.

The price of "SILVER AGE" continues to be $1.50 per full quart. Old Gibson, Finch or Guckenheimer at $1 per quart, or six quarts for $3. A fine Scherry or Sweet California Wine at 50 cents per quart and upwards. Send for a
